Our School

A Greeting from the principal

Let's shine together!

We at Shigakukan High School wish that everyone can radiate at their brightest. Wouldn't you like too?

At "Shigakukan High School" we believe each student should be able to radiate in their own individual way.

Given the opportunity, to shine for themselves, for Shigakukan and for all human kind. We believe two things are necessary for that.

First of all, improving oneself. There are various ways one can improve. One such way is by improving ones knowledge. Also, positive participation in group activities such as the student council, in class and in club and sports activities.

Also, helping others to develop and love human kind. We live in a society.

Being a part of the society we live in we need to cherish our connection with others. 6 years have passed since, Respect and a love of others, leads to, respect and a love of oneself.

Our school made a fresh start as a coed high school. "Shigakukan High School" aims to implement these principles into our daily school life. Let's shine together.

Principal Yoshio Matsumoto

The philosophy of education

In 1905 the late Tamae Naiki established Chukyo sewing women's school in Nagoya city –now we call it Shigakukan high school. In those days, women in the city were not interested in fashion and they were delicately constituted. The late Ms. Naiki wanted to train many leaders to improve the two points. That is why she established the school.

We have thought about a new education even since World War II to meet the needs of society and the changing of time. Now, we are in the 21st century, so we endeavour to create new education for the next century.

Today we are in an era of internationalization and high-tech information in Japan. Science and technology have also developed. On the other hand, the number of new born have been decreasing, and the economic structure has also been changing. The Japanese government aim for a gender-free society in which both men and women can participate fully.

But in the modern educational field more and more students are self centered, incontinent and inactive. Because they lack a sense of purpose and can't adapt themselves to school, the number of students with behavioral problems, leaving school before graduation and refusing to go to school grows with each passing year.

In this period of transition changing, our school believes that we should train students with “the Power of Creating Together.” A student who can study independently, can develop their own potential and good points while recognizing each other's differences. We attach importance to maximizing the individuality of students and finding their ability in a practical way. Here are our school aims.

“The philosophy of education”

“Loving people”

“Independence”

“Goal of school image”

We celebrated our 100th anniversary in 2005. Before 2005, we were a girl’s only school. We started with new spirit in 2005 as a mixed school making use of our previous 100 years experience for the 21st century.

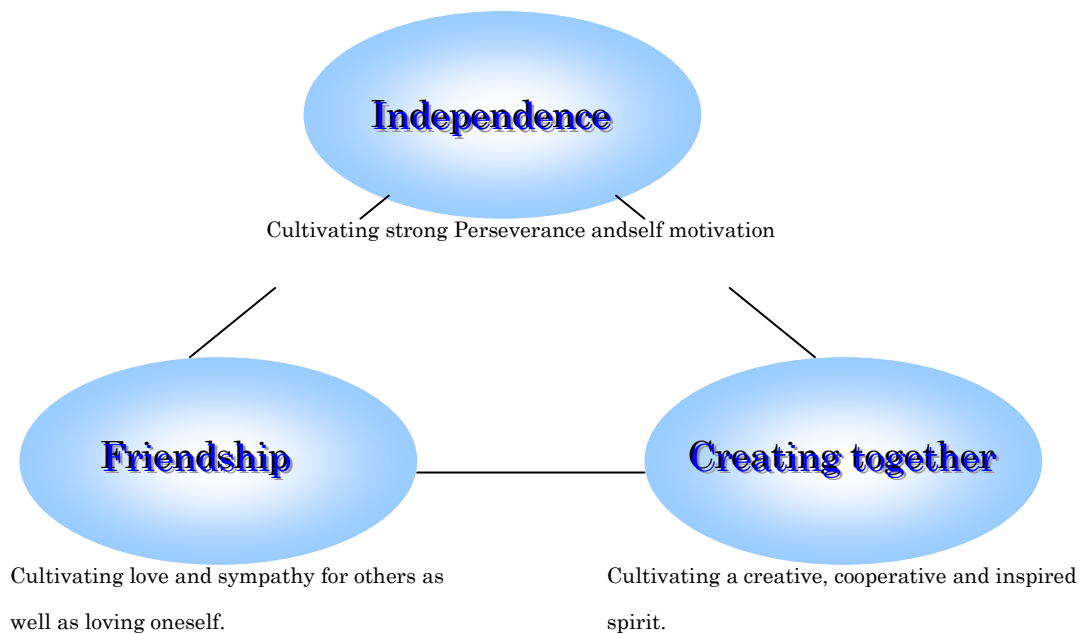

Our education is based on “Independence” , “Friendship” , “Creation Together”. All school personnel exercise their own highly original work and initiative to satisfy graduated students, current students, parents and people from the local community.

“Definite 5 ideas”

1. Student First
2. Encourage Student Vitality
3. Do Our Bests
4. Became a Trusted School
5. Become a superior School
